Behold the Promised Land

1. The Lord will shake all nations with his all-consuming fire.
   All passing things will perish; the unshakeable will stand.

2. The treasures of all nations shall come in, declares the Lord.
   All passing things will perish; the unshakeable will stand.

3. This house’s latter glory shall be greater than before;
   All passing things will perish; the unshakeable will stand.

   The heavens and all earthly things, the sea and the dry land;
   With milk and honey flowing, Behold the promised land!

   He is now his harvest as he shakes his mighty hand.
   Be strong and keep the covenant; Behold the promised land!

   His kingdom, the unshakeable, forever will it stand.
   With milk and honey flowing, Behold the promised land!

   The righteous he delivers in that awesome day of ire;
   He will purify his people, glean silver from dross ore.

   He will fill this house with glory and his peace forevermore.
   Be strong and keep the covenant; Behold the promised land!
Behold the Promised Land

Words and Music: Hannah Jordan, 2015

1. The Lord will shake all nations with his all-consuming fire,
The heavens and all earthly things,
   the sea and the dry land;
The righteous he delivers
   in that awesome day of ire;
All passing things will perish;
   the unshakeable will stand.
With milk and honey flowing,
   Behold the promised land!

2. The treasures of all nations shall come in, declares the Lord.
He is winnowing his harvest
   as he shakes his mighty hand.
He will purify his people,
   gleaning silver from dross ore.
All passing things will perish;
   the unshakeable will stand.
Be strong and keep the covenant;
   Behold the promised land!

3. This house's latter glory
   shall be greater than before;
His kingdom, the unshakeable,
   ever will it stand.
He will fill this house with glory
   and his peace forever more.
All passing things will perish;
   the unshakeable will stand.
With milk and honey flowing,
   Behold the promised land!
